

I am — and you are — a Temple of Sacred Wisdom, graced to live with an Open Mind, poised for awe, and trusting the Primary Flow.

I am — and you are — a Sanctuary of Sacred Love, graced to live with an Open Heart, embracing our belonging and channeling this flow of belonging into the world.

I am — and you are — an Instrument of Sacred Instinct, graced to live with an Open Will, surrendering into the present moment and ushering in new ways of being and doing for the benefit of all.

This is the truest thing about you and the truest thing about me.
